Option 1

Encash whole policy(ies)

It isn't possible to request a specific amount using this method, as the amount you receive will be determined by the value of the units being cancelled, less any charges.

Please note that an early encashment charge may apply and we require the return of the relevant policy certificate(s).

Policy number(s) of policies to be encashed

Option 2

Encash whole policy(ies) with the balance taken by partial encashment of the remaining policies

This option allows you to request a specific amount by cancelling as many whole policies as are required. The balance can be taken by partial encashment of the remaining policies, proportioned by policy units. If you don't specify which policies you want to be wholly encashed we will encash as many as possible up to but not exceeding the amount required starting with the lowest policy number.

Please note that an early encashment charge may apply and we require the return of the relevant policy certificate(s).

Amount required (please indicate required currency)

Policy number(s) of policies to be wholly encashed

Option 3

Partial encashment of policy(ies)

This option allows you to request partial encashment of all of the policies within the bond, proportioned by policy units.

Amount required (please indicate required currency)

Please see the Key Features document you were given when you took out your bond for further information.

Tax implications

The following notes provide guidance for UK resident individuals or trustees only and are based on our understanding of the law and HM Revenue & Customs practice. You should note, however, that we cannot take upon ourselves the role of an individual or corporate adviser. Independent confirmation should be obtained before acting or refraining from acting in reliance upon the information given. The law and HM Revenue & Customs practice are subject to change.

If you aren't a UK resident and you're unsure of the tax consequences of making an encashment, please obtain tax advice in your country of residence.

Option 1 - encash whole policy(ies)

If you choose to encash whole policies, the encashment of each policy would be regarded as a termination event and you may be liable to income tax on any gain made. The gain is calculated by the encashment value plus any previous encashments from the encashed policies less the premium of the encashed policies less any previously reported annual excesses from the encashed policies. Please note that if this option is chosen the ongoing 5% allowance will reduce proportionally. If you do not want to exceed your 5% allowance, you may want to consider sending a new regular encashment form to reduce the amount accordingly.

Option 2 - encash whole policy(ies) with the balance taken by partial encashment of the remaining policies

The encashment of each policy would be regarded as a termination event and you may be liable to income tax on any gain made. The gain is calculated by the encashment value plus any previous encashments from the encashed policies less the premium of the encashed policies less any previously reported annual excesses from the encashed policies. The proportion of the encashment taken as a partial encashment of policies would contribute to your 5% allowance available for the remaining policies only. Please note that if this option is chosen the ongoing 5% allowance of the bond will reduce by the allowance of the encashed policies. If you do not want to exceed your 5% allowance, you may want to consider sending a new regular encashment form to reduce the amount accordingly.

Option 3 - partial encashment of policy(ies)

You may be liable to pay income tax at your highest rate for any partial encashment of policies exceeding your cumulative 5% allowance for each policy.

Important notes

1. We can only make payments to the bond owners.
2. Where a payment currency hasn't been specified, the encashment amount will be sent in the bond currency.

4. Any early encashment charge will be deducted from the encashment value.
5. Payments by telegraphic transfer are subject to a bank charge of £20 (US$30; €30). This will be deducted from the requested amount given in this form. There is currently no charge to payments by BACS. Before any payments are made we'll deduct any costs associated with the realisation of assets to provide the encashment.
6. We recommend that all policy owners take appropriate tax advice before taking an encashment from their policies.
7. In certain circumstance there may be a delay in cashing in part of the bond.
8. If no payment method has been selected the default method will be by telegraphic transfer.
9. Direct credits will usually be credited as cleared funds in your bank account on the fourth working day following the date of the encashment. Direct credit transfers are free and can be made in sterling to UK bank accounts, but there may be restrictions on payments to other geographical areas. The maximum encashment paid by direct credit is £100,000.
10. The maximum single encashment that can be taken is 85% of the premium of the requested policies. Any amounts greater than this must be taken by policy encashment.
11. Depending on your charging option, if an early encashment charge is applied to the encashment there will be a proportionate reduction in the quarterly Portfolio Service Charge/Bond Charge.
12. If you encash one or more policies in full, you may need to reduce any existing regular encashment instructions to ensure they don't exceed the 5% allowance for the remaining policies.
13. Partial encashments are not permitted where you have already submitted a request to encash your policy in full. If you would like to discuss your options please contact RL360° Services on: +44 (0)1624 638 888.
